ARKANSAS

BUILDING BLOCKS OF SUCCESS

Intellectual Virtues

Courage

Perseverance

Carefulness

Honesty

Curiosity

Fair-mindedness

Humility

An introduction to intellectual virtues (building blocks) and how they help with social and academic confidence.

An introduction to campus partners and resources.

A safe space to ask questions and connect with students, faculty, and staff in a small class setting.

UNIVERSITY PERSPECTIVES

Writing Studio

Writing Studio consultants offer feedback on students' academic writing, scholarship essays, or application documents at any stage of the writing process --from brainstorming to final draft.

Tutoring

Tutors provide assistance in more than 100 university courses to help students understand the key foundational concepts to succeed in their areas of study.

Academic Coaching

Peer academic coaches help students develop skills and strategies for learning efficiently and effectively in areas such as preparing for exams, managing test anxiety, and improving notetaking.

OTHER CORD RESOURCES

Welcome Desk

Student employees are always ready to help with campus navigation, course enrollment, Blackboard support, and more.

Exploration Coaches

Exploration Coaches offer holistic major exploration support in one centralized location, so students don't have to visit multiple offices to get the guidance they need.

Career Studio

The Career Studio provides one-on-one and group advising/coaching for some of the Office of Career Connection's most popular services, including resume and cover letter reviews, interview tips and mock interviews.

WHAT ELSE IS IN THE CORD?

Supplemental Instruction

SI offers weekly, collaborative study sessions for historically challenging courses. Each session is facilitated by students who have excelled in the course and want to share their expertise.

ASAP | 360

Designed for first-generation and Pell eligible students, these programs provide one-on-one staff support and peer mentoring to assist with academic transition, financial planning, social engagement and wellness.

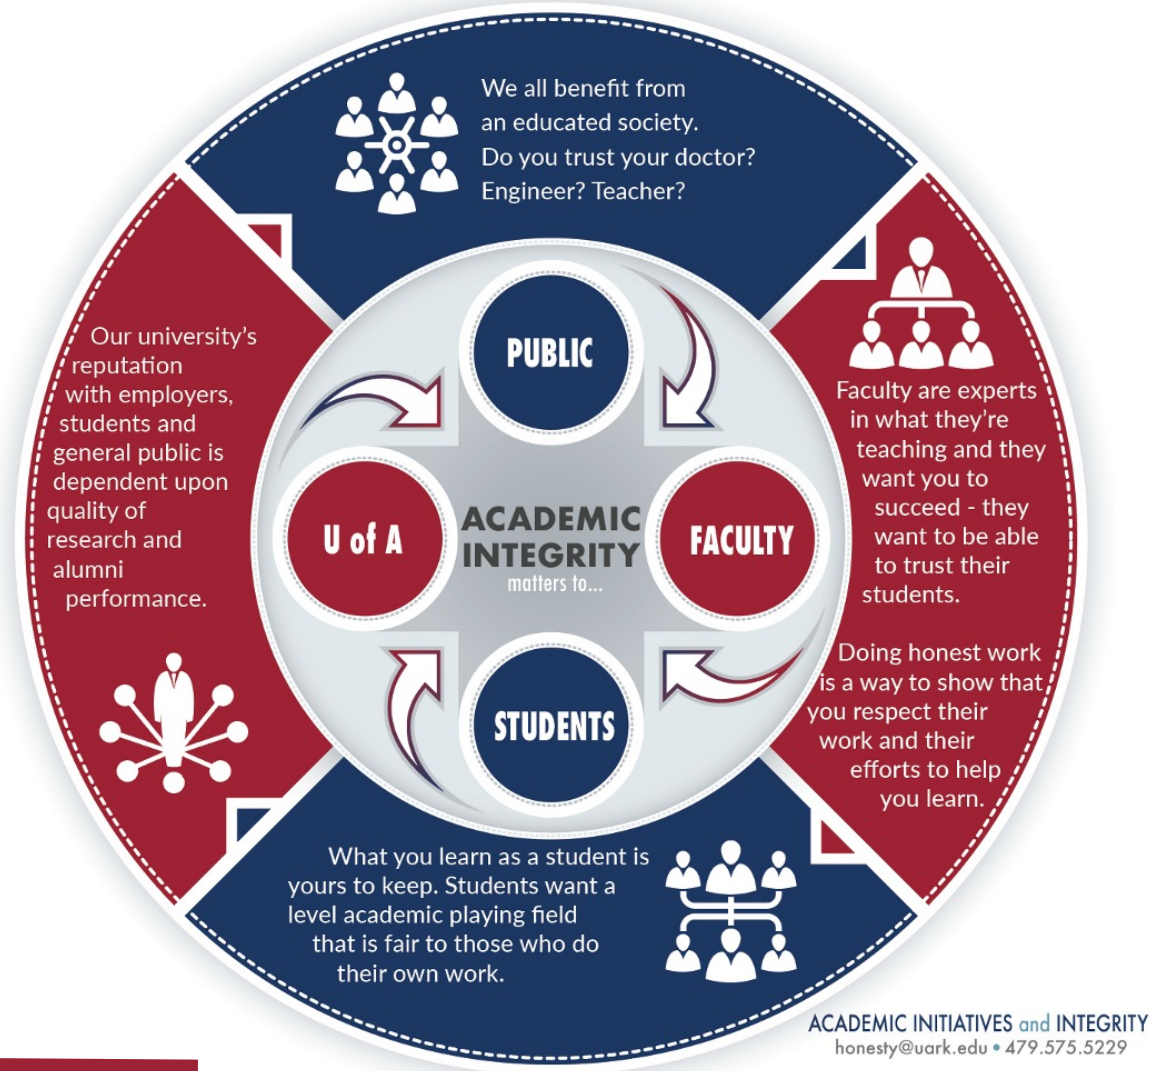

COEHP & Fulbright Advising

All academic advisors for COEHP & Fulbright are housed at the CORD, providing a centralized location for academic advising appointments and support.
